

Job Board

Swiss
Python
Summit

To advertise your open position, take any A4 page and add some basic information about it. If you do not have a page with you, take one from the stack.

Try to be brief in your description and use large letters. You can always provide more information through liberal use of URLs.